

PATTLE DELAMORE PARTNERS LTD

Environmental Science Intern – Auckland

PDP is a New Zealand, employee owned environmental consultancy with over 130 staff nationwide. We provide engineering, scientific and planning services to a wide range of clients.

We are looking for students in their third year (second professional year) to join us as interns this summer, with a view to becoming a graduate in 2020.

Applications close on 7 December.

As an intern, you will have an induction programme to help to get you familiar with PDP, a buddy who will help you get the most out of your summer work experience and we will provide you with Health and Safety training.

The Role

The Environmental Science Intern provides assistance to Environmental Scientists and Engineers on a range of environmental and civil projects.

This may include, but is not limited to assisting with:

- Field work such water quality sampling and testing, flow gauging, environmental surveying
- Sample management, quality assurance and quality control
- Statistical analysis and interpretation of datasets
- Writing reports on technical work and feasibility studies
- Tender preparation and putting together proposals
- Researching and preparing costings
- Researching and preparing specifications
- Checking and producing calculations
- Building spreadsheets
- Collating and analysing data for specific research projects
- Developing in-house tools to build business capability
- Administrative duties and tasks for the Business Support team

Personal Qualities

- Excellent communication and report writing
- Good interpersonal communication
- Ability to work on several projects at a time
- Ability to work to deadlines
- Self-starter with a professional approach to work
- Be physically fit and able to work for short periods in remote locations.
- Enjoy working in the outdoors

Qualifications

Third year (second professional year) of undergraduate degree in Science, Geography, Environmental or Natural Resources from a well-recognised university.

To apply

Please email employment@pdp.co.nz and include your CV, a copy of your latest academic transcript and a covering letter.