

Service Leader - Contaminated Land | Auckland

Join an established and highly respected environmental and engineering consultancy with a nationwide presence. Driven by solving the important infrastructure and environmental challenges facing NZ, we are still growing and invite you to be part of our future. You will be working in a business that prides itself on our people-focused culture, our fun workplace, and our creative thinking and sound advice.

We are looking for an experienced and solution-focused Service Leader with a strong track record of delivering contaminated land projects. As a senior leader within the contaminated land team, you will provide technical input and project management in a wide range of projects and will further develop your skills and expertise.

The Role

- A client facing role with a strong business development component – sourcing work from existing clients and developing new clients.
- Manage contaminated land projects (soil, ground gas, ground water, surface water) by scoping, budgeting, supervising and co-ordinating all resources (including contractors) and liaising with regulators and client contacts.
- Ensure health and safety focus so nobody gets harmed.
- Prepare or review technical reports and resource consent applications; assess media testing results and conduct data analysis.
- Train and mentor junior staff.
- Conduct due diligence and environmental site audits.

You Will Need

- Degree in Geology/Engineering Geology/Environmental Science.
- At least 8 years' experience in Contaminated Land (preferably in a professional consultancy).
- Familiarity with the Contaminated Land Guidelines and Regulatory Framework.
- Strong verbal and written communication skills and excellent organisational skills.
- Creative thinking to find innovative and sound solutions for our clients.
- A collegial, team-player with a 'can do' attitude.
- Please apply and send your CV and Cover letter to employment@pdp.co.nz
