You will work across a wide variety of projects and further develop your skills and leadership expertise with the support of the Geotechnics team from around the country.

The Role

- Develop engineering geology/geotechnical engineering business opportunities within PDP's existing and new clients
- Manage geotechnical projects (foundations, slope stability, dams, service corridors and quarrying)
- Plan, write and review technical reports and provide input into engineering design
- Contract management including cost estimating, tender and contract preparation, construction management.
- Work across other work groups at PDP, in particular contaminated land, water infrastructure and water resources.
- Work with a range of clients from local authorities to private companies
- Liaise with regulators and other relevant bodies

You will need

- Degree in Civil or Geotechnical Engineering, Engineering Geology (or equivalent)
- Minimum 8 years' experience as a Geotechnical Engineer or Engineering geologist (experience with a professional consultancy is preferred)
- Ideally Chartered Professional Engineer/Engineering Geologist status with Engineering New Zealand
- Strong verbal and written communication skills
- Proven Leadership skills
- Creative thinking to find innovative solutions for our clients.
